Objective

As a motivated and self-driven junior developer, I am actively striving to elevate my coding skills and stay updated with the latest technologies in React, as well as related tools including Redux, Yup, and React Hook Forms. Proficient in CSS, Tailwind, and styled-components, I possess a strong foundation in front-end markup tools. Moreover, I am diligently working on enhancing my skills in Node.js development. Furthermore, my familiarity extends to backend tools like Express, Mongoose, and MongoDB, which significantly enhances my skill set. My commitment to continuous learning finds its roots in both my past education and life experiences. This foundation empowers me to deliver optimal solutions that seamlessly cater to user experiences. I am fueled by a genuine passion to offer elegant and efficient solutions that align impeccably with the best practices of the industry.
